

A Primer on Islam: Epilogue

By Patrick Wyatt

In Islam, Mohammed, is known as the messenger or prophet of Allah. He is highly revered amongst Muslims—an idea which Mohammed himself promoted throughout the Quran—to the level of deity-status. Any questioning of or perceived insult to Mohammed is considered blasphemy. As you might’ve guessed, blasphemy carries a death sentence. In Muslim-dominated areas all it takes is an accusation to incite a murderous mob to action. Even a rumor will do. No trial, no proof needed. If you’re a non-Muslim, you’re always fair game.

In the Quran, Allah is described many ways. Amongst them are: “The best schemer,” “The greatest of all deceivers,” “The destroyer,” “The most proud,” “The bringer of death,” and “The creator of evil.” In the Bible, such titles are descriptions of Satan. Again, Islam reveals itself for what it is.

The utter barbarity of Islamic jihad in Syria has brought back the disease, Kuru. Kuru is transmitted through human cannibalism and once contracted, is 100% fatal. The “religion of tolerance” allows for the killing and eating of apostates, enemy fighters and adulterers. Cooking is allowed, but if you’re really demonic, raw will do.

Muslim eschatology has a savior, known as the Mahdi, returning from hiding to cleanse the world of apostasy. You know, kill all the Christians, Jews and other assorted non-Muslims. This Mahdi, also known as the 12th Imam, is of the lineage of Mohammed who disappeared as a five-year-old boy. It’s believed that the return of the Mahdi can be hastened by creating a time of chaos and bloodshed. This thought is especially prevalent within the leadership of Iran, the seat of Shiite Islamic theory and power. With this in mind, you can see why Iran so covets the development of nuclear weapons. What better way to herald the return of the 12th Imam than initiating a nuclear war with Israel?

As Islam gains converts from around the world, within different nations and races, a glaring irony is overlooked by those so taken in; Islam is an Arab supremacist theory. The highest schools of Islamic scholarship conclude that if you can’t pray to Allah in perfect Arabic, he won’t hear your prayers. No prayers, no going to the Muslim paradise known as the Garden. Hell is the abode of the not-up-to standards Muslim, as it is with the infidel. Many Arab Muslims look down upon non-Arabic Muslims with disdain and loathing. Oh, they’re happy to get you converted to Islam all right. It’s just that you’re inferior, a tool.

Kind of like Stalin looked down on those helpful to his communist cause, not understanding that what they were getting wasn’t going to be as promised. Stalin called them, “useful idiots.” When they were no longer needed they were exterminated. Satan, a.k.a. Allah, views his followers the same way. Evil always turns on those it has deceived into doing its bidding when their services are no longer needed.

Another brief laugh: Muslims actually brag on the Quran’s Arab purity. There are over 270 non-Arabic words found in the Quran.

While Muslim women can only marry Muslim men, Muslim men can marry non-Muslim women. This does happen. I hope you’ve read my prior two articles on Islam to glean how women are viewed in the Muslim world. If your own personal safety, sanity and soul aren’t enough to keep you from considering a romantic relationship with a Muslim man, understand this: All children born to a Muslim father are exclusively his. They are his property to be raised Muslim. End of discussion.

With Islam there is no democracy, no freedom of any kind, and no individual human rights. These ideas cannot exist in the totalitarian system known as Islam. Such concepts are diametrically opposed to and eradicated by the imposition of Sharia Law. During the entire 1400 year history of Islam, the only forms of government that have been put into place are secular Muslim dictatorships and theological Muslim dictatorships. Today there are 57 declared Muslim countries in the world. Not one Republic amongst them. Are you ready to give up your freedom for Sharia Law?

On the matter of individual compulsory worship, Satan directly would if he could but he can't; God won't allow it. On the other hand, God can but He won't. He lets each individual have the freedom to choose. Why? Because forced worship isn't love; God wants your love freely given, as His is. Satan doesn't care about love, only power. In this contrast, we see the great divide in methodology between Islam and Christianity, between Satan and God.

The credo of the Muslim Brotherhood, a wholly evil terrorist organization headquartered in Egypt, is, "Allah is our objective; the Quran is our law, the prophet is our leader; Jihad is our way; and dying in the way of Allah is the highest of our aspirations." The truth of Islam can't be stated any better.

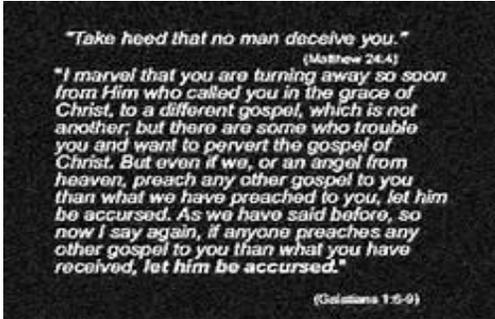

Barry Soetoro, a.k.a. Barack Hussein Obama, staunchly supports the Muslim Brotherhood against the people of Egypt. Couple this with his support of Al-Qaeda, monetarily and militarily, in Syria. The same Al-Qaeda responsible for the 9/11 attacks (the Al-Qaeda that has sworn everlasting jihad against America and specifically slaughters Christians wherever it can get to them). Islam has infected the US at the highest levels. The United States, once the shining beacon of humanity, is now openly a major state sponsor of terrorism. Welcome to reality; it's an unpleasant place.

My assessment of Islam has been necessarily, frank. As such, its harsh truths have been presented in a forthright manner. I wish there were easier ways to get certain points across. I haven't said things for shock value, but what I've said is shocking to those who are unfamiliar with what Islam is and stands for. By now, if you've been following along, you are no longer blissfully unaware. You know. So what's next? Where do we go from here?

Every soul who doesn't accept the blood of Christ as atonement for his or her sins is lost. This encompasses far more than just the followers of Mohammed. Many Muslims were born into families and societies that are Islamic. They were raised in this ideology and don't know anything else of any value or meaning. They are blinded to the truth of Jesus.

In Islam there is no personal relationship with Allah. As previously characterized, he is a warlord and taskmaster. Islam is a belief system not of love, but of hate, violence and oppression. Its rewards are sensual, not eternal; carnal, not spiritual. Yet, Muslims are devoted to their faith. They pray five times a day and willingly, zealously die in the hopes of pleasing the false god, Allah. This is indescribably tragic. These are individuals whom God loves, a people who don't know what true love is. They live lives of rage, wickedness and brutality; slaves to sin and the consequences thereof.

I've witnessed that Arab hospitality is unmatched, as is Muslim ferocity. Not all Arabs are Muslims and not all Muslims are Arabs. Some of the most powerful Christian testimonies I've heard have come from those who were formerly violent Muslims. For some, reading a Bible was the life-changer. For others, it was the kindness and compassion of Christians, which showed them the better, true way. As a testament to God's sovereignty stand the declarations of conflicted Muslims who cried out to Him in desperation and He answered their heartfelt pleas.

All lost souls carry emptiness inside; some rage against it attempting to fill it with all manner of evil. What they need is God's love through the blood of Jesus Christ. In the world, some can be reached, some can't. Not because God doesn't desire it, but because He gives all the free will to say, "No." Please know that some people are dead-set on destruction. Our best intentions will not avail because they delight in evil and the "pleasure for a season" that it provides. For the unrepentant Muslim, Islam offers the vehicle to earthly power, authority and debauchery.

You and I need the discernment to know the right words and actions to reach out to Muslims with the good news of the gospel. There are indeed Muslims converting to Christianity. They risk much in doing so, including honor killing at the hands of their own relatives. This is still a small cost in comparison to losing their souls into hell.

The spiritual battle is ever before us. The physical battle is coming. You must be able to fight both. Now is the time, today is the day to prepare. Many of our brothers and sisters already strive on these battlefields, even unto death. Seek the Lord God of Hosts, His guidance and strength. The war against mankind's lives and souls is rapidly accelerating in intensity. It's coming.

Are you ready?
