

Rumors Of Wars

By Patrick Wyett

“And ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars: see that ye be not troubled: for all these things must come to pass, but the end is not yet” (Matthew 24:6).

The end is not yet, but the beginning of the end has started.

The situation in Ukraine is not sudden or unexpected. It has in fact, been years in the making.

Let's examine ominous events at face-value first. As usual, what we're witnessing is international chess and the world is the chessboard. The players are many behind the scenes, but the visibly moving pieces are Russia and the U.S.

Playing for the Russians is former KGB LT Colonel and current Russian President, Vladimir Putin. His vision is one of a return to Russian/Soviet expansion and glory. For the U.S. we have former community agitator and current U.S. (usurper) President Barry Soetoro, aka Barack Hussein Obama. His every action is to fundamentally transform America into something other than the Christian Constitutional Republic that we were founded as.

I'll start with the obvious. Putin has no respect for Barry, personally or professionally. Then again, who does? Barry and his administration's incompetence is known around the globe. It's called weakness. Our allies loathe it and our enemies relish it. Weakness invites challenge. When Putin and powerful others watch the U.S. betray longtime friends and allies (as it has for the past five plus years), while Barry himself grovels before, appeases and overtly aides the very terrorist entities that we're at war with, they're encouraged.

On an individual level, Putin has carefully crafted his image as being a manly man; participating in martial arts and outdoors activities. Barry too, has an obvious image; that of an effeminate narcissist with a passion for pushing sodomy. As dissimilar as these two are, they both share an admiration of Soviet Union-style communism. Putin, a product of that system and college student Barry is reported to have considered the Soviet Union as the best form of government. Both individuals crave absolute power.

When NSA whistleblower Eric Snowden left the United States, he fled to Russia. You think Snowden knew where to go with the information that he had? No doubt part of Snowden's "inside knowledge" was information on U.S.-led involvement in the so-called Arab Spring. One of Barry's targets was and is, Syria. The problem is, Syria is Russia's major ally in the Middle East and home of their only naval base outside of its territorial waters.

Barry's plan to overthrow Syrian President Assad by arming, training and financially-supporting Muslim terrorists didn't work as Russia countered with their own aid to Assad; an effective chess move. When the U.S. wanted to notch it up and planned to attack Syria directly, as it did Libya, Russia again intervened by sending military forces there, even threatening a nuclear response to U.S. attack. Checkmate. The U.S. had to back down. Once again on the international stage, Barry lost face. He took this, as he does all opposition as a personal affront.

Syria's not off Barry's to-do list as evidenced by the Muslim terrorists that he's been supporting now coming into possession of US-made BGM 71 Tow missiles; wire-guided precision anti-tank missiles. What are the odds that the military weaponry Barry continues to supply these barbarians with will end-up being used against Israel? Yeah, that's right, 100%.

Ukraine is a border neighbor of Russia's and one time part of the former Soviet Union. From Barry's viewpoint, Putin and Russia need to be punished. The method; cause Russia grief by destabilizing Ukraine. It worked for the most part in the Middle East and Africa, so he took the idea to Russia's border.

It's reported that the U.S. spent 5 billion dollars to covertly finance the uprising in the Ukraine that forced the duly elected pro-Russian government out of power, replacing it with a U.S. friendly puppet government. Amongst the groups Barry supported in the uprising were fascists and neo-Nazis. Of course, once you've backed Al-Qaeda and the Muslim Brotherhood, what other vermin wouldn't you support?

Now in some areas, Jews have been told to register with the very Nazi entities that Barry helped put into power. You think he wasn't aware of this byproduct of his meddling?

Of interest, as Russian forces moved into Crimea, a southern region of Ukraine, Ukrainian gold was reportedly airlifted out of Kiev and sent to the US for "safekeeping." As the news tells us, we have a world crisis. As they fail to report, it's of our own making. Putin basks in series of political victories against Barry and the world knows it. Having China's backing solidifies Putin's resolve. There are other nations in the region that he can bring into line even as NATO appears to be moving assets into place for possible military intervention.

War.

As bad as this has the potential to be, there is a more disturbing scenario. What if this is all show? There are Russian troops in the U.S. Just this past week they were inspecting U.S. nuclear weapons facilities in Montana to assure that we were abiding by a nuclear disarmament treaty that Barry signed off on in 2011. Such access by an "enemy" is unprecedented unless those in power are complete idiots, which they might be, or traitors, which is more likely.

At a time of heightened world tensions, Barry proposes to cut funding, then eliminate Tomahawk cruise missiles, a mainstay of US naval attack capability, and do the same to Hellfire missiles, the backbone of US air power against armored vehicles. These actions, along with the many other steps taken by Barry and a complicit Congress to weaken our military don't make sense if the goal is to protect our nation. They do make sense if the goal is to see us removed as a world power. Please understand, evil has no allegiance to country.

Do you feel safer now that the Pentagon, under Barry's direction, has announced that it is seizing all Apache attack helicopters from National Guard units?

There will be a one world government as described in Revelation chapter 13. Powerful principalities are at work now, and have been at work for many years to make that prophesied time our soon-to-be reality. In existence are financial powers that are, in totality, stronger than nations. Indeed, they guide nations and set the policies of presidents and kings. You think the Federal Reserve is federal? Yet the "Fed" runs our economy, not to our benefit, but to their profit and acquisition of authority.

"For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places" (Ephesians 6:12)

The question that must be asked is this: What if Putin and Barry are either following orders or being manipulated to bring the world to a point of catastrophe so great that the peoples of the world will surrender their national sovereignties, and submit to a one world government and leader? It will happen, it's in the process of happening. A leader that will declare himself god and demand worship under pain of death for refusal.

I would urge, brothers and sisters—that you be aware.

On a different note, though possibly related, I'll address the "missing" Malaysian airliner. What we're told is that a jumbo jetliner somehow went off course, flew several hours then crashed into the Indian Ocean without word from the cockpit, without a trace.

Do you buy that? The Israelis don't. They went on high-alert after the plane's disappearance. What they're looking for is that jet, appearing to be a normal civilian flight, being the vehicle for a nuclear attack.

Malaysia is a Muslim dominant country. The pilots were Muslim, along with two Iranians who used stolen passports to board the plane. To say that a commercial jet can go missing without a trace is implausible. This was not a military stealth aircraft. We're told that the pilots altered the flight path and turned off the radio and transponder. To what end? Where were they going? To plan and execute such a maneuver just to fly aimlessly for five plus hours and then crash doesn't make sense.

Various nations have sophisticated satellite, aerial, ground and sea-based surveillance systems. They monitor all air traffic everywhere in the world. A missile can't be launched without being spotted. Yet we're told that this large aircraft simply went missing. That's a lie. Somebody, several some bodies, including the US and China know where that plane went. It had a predetermined destination where to land, and it wasn't in China.

Retired Air Force Lt. General Thomas G. McInerney believes that the plane flew to Pakistan or possibly Iran. It could've shadowed behind another flight headed to one of these nations, appearing on civilian radar as a single incoming plane. Such a plan, obviously would entail meticulous planning and execution. Wherever it landed, those in that nation and on the ground knew it was coming. It was the plane that was wanted.

I'm saddened to surmise that the passengers were extraneous and likely eliminated. That plane has a purpose, something huge to justify the risk and publicity that such an operation entails. General McInerney has contacts and resources, not to mention vast knowledge gleaned from a distinguished military career. His is not groundless theory.

There were reports that the missing plane had landed at Diego Garcia, an important British/U.S. military base in the Indian Ocean, implying direct US involvement. This is likely disinformation, but who knows. One would guess that if the U.S. were involved, they'd use surrogates away from U.S. bases to land it.

There is another possibility to consider, a remote possibility, but one to ponder. The Malaysian flight could've been carrying some type of weapon, tactical nuke, EMP, etc. on behalf of a state actor like China. If it were headed to Diego Garcia, under any guise, the question would be, would it be allowed to approach or would U.S. forces shoot down a civilian jumbo jet? I don't have any inside info, it's purely speculation on my part. Neither the US or China would want such an event to be made public. Again, just something to think about.

Seek God. Pray for wisdom and discernment. Thank God for the gift of salvation freely offered you through the blood of His Son, Jesus. Pray and read your Bible without ceasing. You need strength for what's yet to come. Strength, through an unshakeable faith.

Whom do you serve? The god of this world, Satan, through his various lies, deceptions and minions, or the risen Savior, Jesus Christ. The choice you make is eternal. Oh you who are lost, tend to your immortal soul while there's still time.

"Whereas ye know not what shall be on the morrow. For what is your life? It is even a vapour, that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away." (James 4:14)

The apostle John saw and described the coming Jesus, whom you will behold with your own eyes:

"And in the midst of the seven candlesticks one like unto the Son of man, clothed with a garment down to the foot, and girt about the paps with a golden girdle.

His head and his hairs were white like wool, as white as snow; and his eyes were as a flame of fire;

And his feet like unto fine brass, as if they burned in a furnace; and his voice as the sound of many waters.

And he had in his right hand seven stars: and out of his mouth went a sharp two-edged sword: and his countenance was as the sun shineth in his strength.

And when I saw him, I fell at his feet as dead. And he laid his right hand upon me, saying unto me, Fear not; I am the first and the last:

I am he that liveth, and was dead; and, behold, I am alive for evermore, Amen; and have the keys of hell and of death” (Revelation 1:13-18).

Make yourself ready to meet the Lord!
